

StarStruck Theatre's 4-week Summer Performance Camp is the perfect place for experienced young performers that love singing, dancing, and acting. In this camp, students will put together a 45 minute musical that will conclude with four performances at Irvington High School's Vahalla Theatre for the public. Admission is not based on a first come first served basis, but rather at the discretion of the director and the requirements of the show. Once students have been admitted to the camp, they will attend a mandatory audition day so that roles can be determined before camp begins. An average day of camp includes several hours of singing, acting, dancing, and theatre games. Students are expected to attend every day of camp and study at home to memorize lines, music, and choreography. This summer, our four week camp will rehearse and perform Annie Jr.
